Results

Below are some examples of the recovered 3D structure from our procedures. Red points are scene points, green points correspond to cameras.

Note that the right image have been manually filtered to remove outliers.